And with checklists, we can prioritize the tasks between those that need to be done immediately and those that can be done at a later time. It saves you the time from trying to remember what else to do. It also lessens your effort in trying to remember your tasks. If you want to get a lot of things done in a short amount of time, this can be done by delegating some of those tasks. And with checklists, delegation is much easier. Checklists are simple to make and are most of the time free to download (on our website, they are).
