Gmail has strong security features that make it a powerful platform for protecting you. We work hard to protect you, blocking junk mail, spam, and malware from reaching your inbox. Google does not scan or process Gmail content for advertising purposes. Although Gmail's features are enough to protect most users, some accounts may need extra layers of protection. Google's Enhanced Protection program safeguards sensitive information, making it more visible or simply "sensitive" - meaning those who are at high risk of being targeted online. Learn more about it. Gmail is part of the Google Workspace suite and offers several plans for you to choose from. In addition to everything you love in Gmail, you also get a custom email address (@tencongty.com), unlimited group emails, 99.9% uptime guarantee, double storage space, no ads, and 24/7 support, as well as Google Workspace Sync for Microsoft Outlook and more.
