Uib/template/accordion/accordion.html. Html accordion menu template. Accordion html template free. Template/accordion/accordion-group.html.

It is shown by default, until the collapse plugin adds the appropriate classes that we use to style each element. Flush Add .accordion-flush to remove the default background-color, some borders, and some rounded corners to render accordions edge-to-edge with their parent container. This is the second item's accordion body. Placeholder content for this accordion, which is intended to demonstrate the .accordion-flush class. Example Click the accordions below to expand/collapse the accordion content. This is the first item's accordion body. Accordion Item #2 Placeholder content for this accordion, which is intended to demonstrate the .accordion-flush class. This is the first item's accordion body. Accordion Item #1 This is the first item's accordion body. It is shown by default, until the collapse plugin adds the appropriate classes that we use to style each element. To render an accordion that's expanded, add the .open class on the .accordion. Accordion Item #1 Placeholder content for this accordion, which is intended to demonstrate the .accordion-flush class. You can modify any of this with custom CSS or overriding our default variables. Let's imagine this being filled with some actual content. Accordion Item #3 Placeholder content for this accordion, which is intended to demonstrate the .accordion-flush class. Nothing more exciting happening here in terms of content, but just filling up the space to make it look, at least at first glance, a bit more representative of how this would look in a real-world application. Always open Omit the data-bs-parent attribute on each .accordion-collapse to make accordion items stay open when another item is opened. Accessibility Please read the collapse accessibility section for more information. Accordion Item #1 This is the first item's accordion body. It is shown by default, until the collapse plugin adds the appropriate classes that we use to style each element. This is the third item's accordion body. Accordion Item #2 This is the second item's accordion body. It is hidden by default, until the collapse plugin adds the appropriate classes that we use to style each element. Build vertically collapsing accordions in combination with our Collapse JavaScript plugin. It's also worth noting that just about any HTML can go within the .accordion-body, though the transition does limit overflow. This is the first item's accordion body. Placeholder content for this accordion, which is intended to demonstrate the .accordion-flush class. These classes control the overall appearance, as well as the showing and hiding via CSS transitions. Accordion Item #3 This is the third item's accordion body. It is hidden by default, until the collapse plugin adds the appropriate classes that we use to style each element.
